6. [REDACTED] Talked to Congressman Jack Edwards (R., Ala.) concerning his request for information on studies of "wars of national liberation." I noted that all of our studies are classified, but that as a general response to his question we have covered the spectrum on this subject. Edwards said his principal concern is whether we are learning anything from our experience in this field which we can apply to future conflicts of this nature. He said he could not be specific as to what he wants as he is just groping at this point. I offered to secure for him a bibliography of overt material if he so desires. Edwards said at this point he is not sure what he wants, but will be back in touch with me if he desires such a bibliography. He thanked me very much for stopping by to see him.
